

Call for 2019 Order of Athabasca University nominations

The Board of Governors of Athabasca University invites nominations for the Order of Athabasca University to be presented at the university's 2019 convocation ceremonies. The deadline for nominations is Friday, November 30, 2018.

The Order of Athabasca University is awarded to persons who have:

- rendered exemplary service to Athabasca University or
- rendered exemplary service to community or society while representing Athabasca University

Candidates for the Order of Athabasca University must also be able to attend convocation ceremonies.

AU staff and members of the Board of Governors are eligible to nominate candidates for an Order of Athabasca University.

The awarding of the Order of Athabasca University is an important feature of AU's convocation, celebrating both the individual and the university as well as inspiring our graduates and guests.

Guidelines for Order of Athabasca University nominations

- Submit nominations in strict confidence—do NOT discuss the nomination with the intended nominee.
- Read the Order of Athabasca University Policy and Procedures carefully.
- You must use the official Order of Athabasca University Nomination Form \(Word\), and complete this form in full. Only complete nominations using this form will be considered.
- Attach the nominee's curriculum vitae.
- Send nomination forms and supporting documents to Carol Lund, University Secretary.

Important links

- Order of Athabasca University Policy
- Order of Athabasca University Procedures
- Order of Athabasca University Nomination Form \(Word\)
- Listing of Past Order of Athabasca University Inductees